In addition to legal formalities, the de facto relationship shall also be considered when judging whether a transaction counterparty is a related party.

The 10% of total assets in this processing procedure is calculated on the total assets in the most recent individual or individual financial report as required by the securities issuer's financial report preparation standards.

2. Evaluation and operating procedures

When the Company intends to acquire or dispose of real estate or right-of-use asset from or to a related party, or when it intends to acquire or dispose of assets other than real property or right-of-use asset from or to a related party and the transaction amount reaches 10% or more of owners' equity, 10% or more of the company's total assets, or in excess of NT$300 million, except in trading of government bonds or bonds under repurchase and resale agreements, or subscription or repurchase of money market funds issued by domestic securities investment trust enterprises, the Company shall acquire the consent from the half of all Audit Committee Members and may not proceed to enter into a transaction contract or make a payment until the following matters have been approved by the board of directors for resolutions:

- (1) The purpose, necessity and anticipated benefit of the acquisition or disposal of assets.
- (2) The reason for choosing the related party as a trading counterparty.
- (3) With respect to the acquisition of real property from a related party, information regarding appraisal of the reasonableness of the preliminary transaction terms in accordance with subparagraph 1 and 4, paragraph 3.
- (4) The date and price at which the related party originally acquired the real property, the original trading counterparty and that trading counterparty's relationship to the company and the related party.
- (5) Monthly cash flow forecasts for the year commencing from the anticipated month of signing of the contract, and evaluation of the necessity of the transaction, and reasonableness of the funds utilization.
- (6) An appraisal report from a professional appraiser or a CPA's opinion obtained in compliance with the preceding article.
- (7) Restrictive covenants and other important stipulations associated with the transaction.

3. Reasonable evaluation of transaction costs

- (1) The Company acquiring real estate or right-of-use asset from a related party shall evaluate the reasonableness of the transaction costs by the following means:
 - 1) Based upon the related party's transaction price plus necessary interest on funding and the costs to be duly borne by the buyer. "Necessary interest on funding" is imputed as the weighted average interest rate on borrowing in the year the Company purchases the property; provided, it may not be higher than the maximum non-financial industry lending rate announced by the Ministry of Finance.
 - 2) Total loan value appraisal from a financial institution where the related party has previously used the property as collateral for a loan; provided, the actual cumulative amount loaned by the financial institution shall have been 70 percent or more of the financial institution's appraised loan value of the property and the period of the loan shall have been 1 year or more. However, this shall not apply where the financial institution is a related party as one of the trading counterparties.

- (2) Where, land and structures thereupon are combined as a single property purchased or leased in a transaction, the transaction costs for the land and the structures may be separately appraised in accordance with either of the means listed in the preceding paragraph.
- (3) The Company acquiring real estate or right-of-use asset from a related party and appraising the cost of the real estate or right-of-use asset in accordance with the preceding subparagraph 1 and 2, paragraph 3 shall also engage a CPA for an appraisal and render a specific opinion.
- (4) Where the Company acquiring real estate or right-of-use asset from a related party and appraising the cost of the real estate or right-of-use asset in accordance with the preceding subparagraph 1 and 2 of paragraph 3 are uniformly lower than the transaction price, it shall comply with the subparagraph 5 of the paragraph 5 of this article; however, shall not apply to the following situations if the Company could provide objective evidence, professional appraisal reports and a CPA's opinion on the reasonableness of the transaction terms:
 - 1) Where the related party acquired undeveloped land or leased land for development, it may submit the proof of compliance with one of the following conditions:
 - a. Where undeveloped land is appraised in accordance with the means in the preceding Article, and structures according to the related party's construction cost plus reasonable construction profit are valued in excess of the actual transaction price. The "Reasonable construction profit" shall be deemed the average gross operating profit margin of the related party's construction division over the most recent 3 years or the gross profit margin for the construction industry for the most recent period as announced by the Ministry of Finance, whichever is lower.
 - b. Completed transactions by unrelated parties for other floors of the same property or in neighboring areas from within the preceding year, where the terms of the transactions are similar after calculation of reasonable price discrepancies among floors or areas in accordance with standard property sales or leasing market practices.
 - 2) The company acquires or leases right-of-use for real estate from a related party, and provide evidence the terms of the transaction are similar to transactions completed for neighboring parcels or land of a similar size by unrelated parties within the preceding year.
Completed transactions for neighboring parcels of land in the preceding paragraph in principle refers to parcels on the same or an adjacent block and within a distance of no more than 500 meters or parcels close in publicly announced current value; transaction for similarly sized parcels in principle refers to transactions completed by unrelated parties for parcels with a land area of no less than 50 percent of the property in the planned transaction; within the preceding year refers to the year preceding the date of occurrence of the acquisition of the real property or right-of-use asset.

- (5) Where the Company acquiring real estate or right-of-use asset from a related party and appraising the cost of the real estate or right-of-use asset in accordance with the preceding subparagraph 1, 2, and 4 of paragraph 3 are uniformly lower than the transaction price; it shall not apply to the following matters:
- 1) A special reserve shall be set aside in accordance with Article 41, paragraph 1 of the Securities Exchange Act against the difference between the real estate transaction price and the appraised cost, and may not be distributed or used for capital increase or issuance of bonus shares. Where the Company uses the equity method to account for its investment in another public company, then the special reserve called for under Article 41, paragraph 1 of the Securities and Exchange Act shall be set aside pro rata in a proportion consistent with the share of public company's equity stake in the other company.
 - 2) If the company has established independent directors and audit committees that meet the requirements of the Securities and Exchange Law of the Republic of China, the audit committee shall refer to the provisions of Article 218 of the Company Law of the Republic of China.
 - 3) Actions taken pursuant to the preceding two subparagraphs shall be reported to a shareholders meeting, and the details of the transaction shall be disclosed in the annual report and any investment prospectus.

The Company shall set aside a special reserve under the preceding paragraph and may not utilize the special reserve until it has recognized a loss on decline in market value of the assets it purchased or leased at a premium, or they have been disposed of, or the lease has been terminated, or adequate compensation has been made, or the status quo ante has been restored, or there is other evidence confirming that there was nothing unreasonable about the transaction, and the Financial Supervisory Commission (FSC) has given its consent.

- (6) Where the Company acquires real estate or right-of-use asset from a related party and one of the following circumstances exists, the acquisition shall be conducted in accordance with the paragraph 1, 2, and 4 of this Article in terms of evaluation and operating procedures, and the subparagraph 1, 2, and 3 of paragraph 3 of this article do not apply:
- 1) The related party acquired the real estate or right-of-use asset through inheritance or as a gift.

- 2) More than 5 years have elapsed from the time the related party signed the contract to obtain the real estate to the signing date for the current transaction.
 - 3) The real estate is acquired through signing of a joint development contract with the related party, or through engaging a related party to build real estate, either on the Company's own land or on rented land.
 - 4) The right-of-use to real property for business use is obtained by the Company from its parent company, subsidiaries, or a subsidiary in which it directly or indirectly holds 100% of the issued shares or authorized capital.
- (7) If the company acquires real property or its right-to-use assets from related parties, if there is other evidence showing that the transaction is not in accordance with business practices, it shall also be handled in accordance with subparagraph 5, paragraph 3 of this article.
4. With respect to the types of transactions listed below, when to be conducted between a public company and its parent or subsidiaries, or between its subsidiaries in which it directly or indirectly holds 100% of the issued shares or authorized capital, the company's board of directors may delegate the board chairman to decide such matters when the transaction is within a certain amount and have the decisions subsequently submitted to and ratified by the next board of directors meeting:
- (1) Acquisition or disposal of equipment or right-of-use assets thereof held for business use.
 - (2) Acquisition or disposal of real property right-of-use assets held for business use.
- Where the position of independent director has been created in accordance with the provisions, when a matter is submitted for discussion by the board of directors, the board of directors shall take into full consideration each independent director's opinions. If an independent director objects to or expresses reservations about any matter, it shall be recorded in the minutes of the board of directors' meeting.
- Where the Company or its subsidiary that is not a domestic publicly listed company engages in a transaction under paragraph 1, and the transaction amount reaches 10% or more of the Company's total assets, the Company shall submit the information listed in paragraph 2 to the shareholders' meeting for approval before proceeding to enter into a transaction contract or make a payment. However, the transactions between the Company and its parent company or subsidiaries or between its subsidiaries are not subject to this provision.
- The transaction amount in paragraph 2 and the preceding paragraph shall be calculated as per paragraph 2, Article 15, and the term "within the preceding year" refers to the year preceding the date of the current transaction. The portions have been approved by the shareholders' meeting, the Audit Committee, and the Board of Directors as per the Procedures need not be counted toward the transaction amount.

Article 11. The evaluation of operating procedures of the acquisition or disposal of the intangible assets, right-of-use assets, or memberships.

1. The means of price determination and supporting reference materials.

When acquiring or disposing of assets or assets or right-of-use assets, the possible future generation and market fair value of the assets shall be considered, and expert opinions shall be consulted when necessary and negotiated with the counterparty.

2. Entrusting an expert for opinions.

Where the Company acquires or disposes of intangible assets, right-of-use asset, or memberships and the transaction amount reaches 10% or more of owners' equity capital or NT$ 300 million or more, except in transactions with a R.O.C. government agency, the company shall engage a certified public accountant prior to the date of occurrence of the event to render an opinion on the reasonableness of the transaction price.

3. Degree of authority and levels

Acquisition or disposal of intangible assets, right-of-use assets, or memberships with a transaction amount of less than NT$50 million (inclusive) shall be submitted to the general manager for approval in accordance with the company's approval authority; where a transaction amount of more than NT$50 million shall be submitted to chairman for approval in accordance with the company's approval authority.

4. Executive unit.

For the company's acquisition and disposal of intangible assets, right-of-use assets, or memberships, the executive unit is the accounting/financial department, responsible department and the relevant authority and responsible unit.

5. Transaction process.

The company's acquisition or disposition of the transaction process of intangible assets, right-of-use assets, or memberships shall be handled in accordance with the company's internal control system procurement and payment cycle related operations.

Article 12. Procedures for Acquisition or Disposal of Claims of Financial Institutions In principle, the Company and its subsidiaries do not engage in the transaction of acquiring or disposing of the creditor's rights of financial institutions. If they later intend to engage in the transaction of acquiring or disposing of the creditor's rights of financial institutions, they shall be subject to the approval of the Audit Committee and the approval of the Board of Directors before formulating its evaluation and operational procedures.

Article 13. The evaluation of operating procedures of the acquisition or disposal of the derivatives.

1. Trading principles and strategies

(1) Types of Transactions

The company's derivative product transactions are only in foreign currency forward foreign exchange and option products. If you want to engage in other derivative products, you must first pass the resolution with the board of directors before proceeding.

(2) Management or Hedge Strategies.

- 1) Engaging in derivative commodity transactions is limited to avoiding risks (not for trading purposes).
- 2) The adopted hedging strategy is divided into two types: complete hedging and selective hedging, depending on the nature of the assets or liabilities to be hedged and expectations for the future.
- 3) Regarding the credit market risk of various derivative products, due to the uncertainty of the financial, economic and political environment, it is difficult to make a reasonable and objective assessment, the relevant trading activities should be stopped.

(3) Division of Responsibility.

The above-mentioned derivative commodity transactions must be evaluated and judged by the company's personnel who have a considerable degree of understanding of each commodity, and in accordance with the actual needs of the company's operations, and the decision is made by the authorized supervisor and the chairman of the board.

- 1) Executive unit of transaction: the accounting unit, which submits a written submission to the authority and responsible supervisor for approval and conducts transactions within the approved conditions.
- 2) Confirmation unit: accounting unit.
- 3) Delivery unit: delivery personnel.
- 4) Auditing unit: understand the appropriateness of internal control such as the division of responsibilities and operating procedures, and audit the compliance of the transaction unit with this processing procedure.
- 5) Approval authority: daily trading and net accumulated position trading authority unlimited amount must be submitted to the chairman of the board for approval.

(4) Performance Evaluation Guidelines.

Regularly evaluate and review the operating performance by the accounting staff, make an evaluation report in writing, and submit it to the authorized supervisor and chairman of the board.

(5) Aggregate Amount of Trading Contract.

The total amount of contracts related to foreign exchange hedging operations shall not exceed the net position offset against the balance of the assets and liabilities as in the most recent financial statements audited and certified or reviewed by a CPA. Any excess shall be reported to the board of directors for approval.

(6) Maximum amount of losses for all and individual contracts.

The upper limit of contract loss shall not exceed 10% of the contract amount, which applies to individual contracts and all contracts.

2. Risk management

(1) Scope of risk management

1) Credit risk management - The trading counterparties of the Company shall be limited to the banks with existing business dealings or internationally prestigious financial institutions that can provide adequate professional insight and market information. The financial supervisor shall be responsible for controlling the transaction quota of the financial institution, and adjust the transaction quota of the financial institution at any time in accordance with the changes in market conditions.

2) Market risk management - Financial products that are commonly traded in the market shall prevail and the use of specially designed products shall be reduced.

3) Liquidity risk management - Banks with large transaction volume and great quotation ability shall be selected.

4) Cash flow risk management - in order to ensure the stability of the company's working capital turnover, the company's source of funds for derivative commodity transactions is limited to its own funds, and its operating amount should take into account the cash income and expenditure forecast of the next three months.

5) Operational risk management - must strictly comply with the authorization quota, operation procedures and other regulations set by the company to avoid operational risks.

6) Commodity risk management - internal trading personnel should have complete and correct professional knowledge of financial products, and require banks to fully expose risks to avoid the risk of misuse of financial products.

7) Legal risk management - any documents signed with financial institutions must be reviewed by professionals before they can be formally signed to avoid legal risks.

(2) Personnel engaged in derivatives trading may not serve concurrently in other operations such as confirmation and settlement.

(3) Risk measurement, monitoring, and control personnel shall be assigned to a different department than the personnel in the preceding subparagraph and shall report to the board of directors or senior management personnel with no responsibility for trading or position decision-making.

(4) The positions held by derivative commodity exchanges shall be evaluated regularly, and the method shall be in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 4 (1) of this article.

3. Internal audit system.

To allow objective and independent personnel to confirm the content of the company's transactions with financial institutions, and to completely collect and save external transaction contracts, transaction vouchers, and other related files, and promptly report to the responsible supervisor when the transaction personnel are in danger of exceeding their authority and the board of directors.

(1) The Company's internal auditors shall periodically make a determination of the suitability of internal controls on derivatives of the Company and its subsidiaries, and conduct a monthly audit of how faithfully foreign exchange derivatives trading by the trading department adheres to the procedures for engaging in derivatives trading, analyze its transaction circulation, and prepare an audit report. If any material violation is discovered, the independent directors shall be notified in writing. If the company has set up independent directors or audit committees in accordance with the provisions of the Securities and Exchange Law of the Republic of China, the independent directors and the audit committee shall be notified in writing of the matters notified to the independent directors in accordance with the preceding paragraph.

(2) The internal auditors shall report the previous audit report and the implementation of the annual audit plan for internal audit operations to the Financial Supervisory Commission ("FSC") before the end of February of the following year, and correct any abnormal issues by the end of May of the following year. Circumstances must be reported to the Financial Supervisory Commission for future reference.

4. Regular assessment methods and handling of abnormal situations.

(1) Transaction executive unit:

The positions held by derivative commodity exchanges should be evaluated at least once a week, but if the business needs to be processed for hedging transactions, it should be evaluated at least twice a month, and the evaluation report should be sent to a high-level executive authorized by the board of directors.

(2) Senior executives authorized by the board of directors:

For the supervision and control of derivative commodity transaction risks, the board of directors authorizes senior executives to pay attention to and manage them at any time, and regularly evaluate whether the performance of derivative commodity transactions meets the established business strategy and whether the risks assumed are within the scope of the company's tolerance.

- (3) Auditing unit:

Regularly assess whether the currently used risk management procedures are appropriate and are indeed handled in accordance with this processing procedure.
 - (4) Where there exist abnormal issues in the profit and loss analysis report of the derivative financial product position (for example, the holding position has exceeded the loss limit), it shall be reported to the board of directors and necessary corresponding measures shall be taken.
5. Supervision and management of the board of directors
- (1) When the company is engaged in derivative commodity transactions, the board of directors shall indeed supervise and manage in accordance with the following principles:
 - 1) Designated high-level executives should always pay attention to the supervision and control of derivative commodity transaction risks.
